
LINDSAY McQUADE

Director, ScottishPower Renewable Energy Limited

Lindsay completed a Bachelor of Arts (Hons) in Economics at the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow in 1997.

In 2004 she successfully completed the Association of Corporate Treasurer's AMCT qualification, focusing on accountancy, risk, financial analysis and corporate finance. She also attained the Certified Compliance & Ethics Professional-International (CCEP-I) qualification of the Society of Corporate Compliance and Ethics in 2017.

NOTEWORTHY EXPERIENCE FOR HOLDING OF HER POSITIONS AT SCOTTISHPOWER RENEWABLES:

Lindsay started her professional career at ScottishPower Renewables in 2006 holding a variety of roles.

She acted as Director of Policy & Innovation for ScottishPower Renewables from 2013, with responsibilities extending to energy policy, grid & regulation, aviation, as well as innovation, pertinent to the existing operations and future of ScottishPower Renewables. She also worked closely with the wider global regulatory function of Iberdrola. In parallel, she also held the role of Business Compliance Officer for ScottishPower Renewables from 2015 until 2018.

Lindsay sits on the Boards of a number of industry bodies and is currently a director of RenewableUK and is the Chair of SafetyOn, the health and safety organisation of the onshore wind industry. She is also an Ambassador for Powerful Women.

Prior to joining ScottishPower Renewables, Lindsay worked in other areas of ScottishPower, including Energy Retail Operations, Corporate Risk and Internal Audit. She has also previously worked for Clydesdale Bank, Stakis plc and British Energy.
